13, which was released on April 25, 2004. Gameplay Red Ace Squadron features six aircraft and two special airplanes that can be bought after finishing the game. Each plane comes with two or three pre-defined maneuvers, which can be used at any time in the game. Additionally, the missions feature six levels of difficulty, allowing players to choose the difficulty that suits them best. The objective of the game is to defeat enemy airplanes and special planes by shooting at them or hitting them with a bomb. Up to 8 players can play together using a serial console, or via local area network. Reception Red Ace Squadron received generally positive reviews from critics, with a score of 70% on Metacritic. The game sold 40,000 units worldwide. There was "a strong smell of cannabis" emanating from the suitcases, a statement from British Transport Police (BTP) said. When officers tried to speak to the man, he became "argumentative and aggressive" and when officers asked to search his belongings he "verbally abused" them. After a struggle the bags were searched and found to contain cannabis and a "small amount of cash," the statement said. The man was arrested on suspicion of possession of cannabis, possession of cannabis with intent to supply and possession of a controlled drug, all class B felonies. He was taken to a west London police station where he remained in custody until Tuesday, November 20. The suspect was fined £20 and given a four-month conditional discharge and will have to pay £100 costs. The 20-year-old man was the only person on the train. British Transport Police said it has had a rise in cannabis seizures on train journeys across the country over the past two years. They said the number of cannabis seizures in the first half of 2019 is up by 100% on the same period last year. British Transport Police said the five largest seizures in the first half of 2019 were 1.5kg of cannabis in a suitcase in Tonbridge, Kent, 1kg of cannabis in a suitcase in 82157476af
